

We recently moved here from IL and I enjoy the fact that I don't get calls all day long trying to sell me something. I like having the coice to call for something if I want it but not having stuff forced down my throat. We get enough spam and pop ups on the internet we don't have to be interrupted on the phone all the time also. Please do not make any changes to our do not call list I enjoy the peace and quiet!